Starts 4pm, Friday January 24th; concludes about 6pm Tuesday, January 28th

MENTAL HEALTH PROFESSIONALS ADVANCED TRAINING "ROUND 2" Thomistic Psychology and the Liber Christo Method

Main Presenter: Fr. Chad Ripperger, PhD

Location: Our Lady of Hope Catholic Center in Chatawa, Mississippi

Class size will be limited.

This advanced class will provide a deeper level of instruction on the intersection of human and diabolic psychology and the role of the mental health professional. The primary goals are to provide an understanding of angelic nature and diabolic influence, the nature of the faculties of man as a spiritual being, and the natural and spiritual causes of mental illness. A comprehensive perspective of psychology, which incorporates theology and philosophy, will increase the knowledge and effectiveness of mental health professionals in their work to assist Exorcists and their teams as well as help others heal and to attain mental health.

A pre-requisite for this advanced training is the Thomistic Counseling Course 1: Thomistic Perspectives on the Nature of Man. This course provides a foundational understanding of St. Thomas's teaching on the nature of man, his faculties and their acts and the impact mental health and illness. This Thomistic view of man is particularly important in the liberation ministry as it is the basis for comprehending the operations of the diabolic and the rationale of the Liber Christo Method. To access this course, go to The Thomistic Institute of Psychology and complete the application for membership. You will then be granted access to the course.

Psychological help is often needed for those who seek assistance for spiritual affliction. Mental health professionals with an understanding of Thomistic psychology and the Liber Christo method are able to offer an approach that is in conformity with the Magisterium of the Church. This training is based on the wisdom of St. Thomas Aquinas and developed through the work of Fr. Chad Ripperger, and it provides an accurate understanding of the design of man's nature which is only fully known through philosophical and theological considerations. The knowledge gained will significantly benefit attendees, whether applied within a private counseling practice, the liberation ministry or personally. The program is designed for licensed mental health professionals and trained exorcist priests.
